Park City Announces Northwoods Financial Series

Yearlong Program Starts Feb. 25 with ‘How to Be Financially Fit in 2021’

MERRILL, WISC. – Park City is bringing free, information-packed virtual learning sessions to the people of the Northwoods. The new Northwoods Financial Series will cover a variety of financial topics, including home and car buying, understanding credit, investing in today’s world and much more.

Free and open to the public, the series begins Thursday, Feb. 25, at 4 p.m. with “How to Be Financially Fit in 2021.” Luke Pelger of GreenPath Financial Wellness will speak on how to set financial goals and create and manage a budget. His talk will also show viewers how to prioritize savings, pay down debt and simplify one’s finances.

“Whether you are seeking to make 2021 your best year ever, or are simply looking to improve your financial outlook, this is must-view seminar,” said Park City CEO Val Mindak. “Luke will reenergize you to look at your 2021 goals, and give you the tools to stay on track.”

The Northwoods Financial Series emerges from two highly successful Northwoods Financial Summits held in autumn of 2019 and 2020. Last year’s summit was entirely virtual due to COVID-19, and the credit union says it saw even greater engagement than what they did with the in-person event the previous year.
